2009 AIMC

Despite the current economic climate, the Australian film industry has just recorded the highest grossing year at the box office on record. The cinema industry is currently embracing the many changing technologies, including Digital and 3D. In order to remain positive, relevant and successful the industry is facing its' many pertinent issues head-on.

The AIMC provides an opportunity to reflect upon and shape the issues that affect the business of motion pictures, as well as being the only event to network with local and international colleagues from all areas of the film industry.

5 Reasons to Attend the 2009 AIMC

- Preview major studio and independent feature films and product reels of upcoming releases slated for 2009-2010 release
- Visit the new AIMC trade show and be updated on all the products related to the motion picture exhibition industry
- Learn about the issues facing our industry at the many seminars, forums and panels
- Network with top industry executives at the social events
- See Australia's hottest stars, filmmakers and industry leaders at the final night Gala AIMC Awards and dinner
